

International Relocation

iWe are excited to introduce you to our HIRING PROFESSIONAL PACKERS
Moving Checking List Guide!

Moving abroad has a numbers of steps that we need to diligently follow to ensure a smooth and successful relocation journey.

Take a look at it and start your relocation journey with the right foot.

PACKING & LOADING

Keep in mind the importance of knowing in advance what items you would like to pack and which other items you will not be packing.

- Separate the items: separate the items that you need the crew to pack from the items you will leave behind.
- Put sticky notes: it is better to label the items or move them to a specific place in the house.
- Separate and Mark: Make sure to separate and mark the items you wish to pack, to prevent the crew packing items that are not meant to be packed since this will increase the cubic meters and this will increase rates as well.
- Packing everything: If you intend to pack everything please let the crew and us know.
- Select the items to be packed: It is convenient that you give away or get rid of those items that are regulated and will delay the process such as (food, liquor, cleaning products).
- Electronic Devices: It is important to separate and put in one place the electronic devices and let the packers know that they need to be in the same boxes and not mix with others items and the packing list must show the brand, model, and serial number. We will inform our crew as well.
- Counting items on Loading date is important so that all items that are loaded onto the truck or container can be counted, prompting the crew to count everything (we will too).
- Insurance If you are taking insurance it is important you sign the packing list and send the inventory with its value, 3 days before the packing day.